

Padus-Araxes Cultural Association

Description

The Padus-Araxes Cultural Association, established in 1987 in Venice, Italy, is a non-profit organization dedicated to preserving and promoting the Armenian language and culture, with a particular emphasis on Western Armenian. Named after the Latin names of the Po (Padus) and Araxes rivers, symbolizing Italy and Armenia respectively, the association has been instrumental in fostering Armenian heritage within the diaspora.

Since 1986, the association has organized the Summer Intensive Course of Armenian Language and Culture in Venice. This immersive program caters to individuals over 18 years old, offering instruction across four proficiency levels—from absolute beginners to advanced speakers. The curriculum encompasses Western Armenian grammar, vocabulary, literature, history, and classical Armenian (Grabar), supplemented by cultural activities such as traditional dance and music sessions.

The courses are conducted in the historic Patriarchal Seminary of Venice, adjacent to the Basilica di Santa Maria della Salute, providing participants with a rich cultural and historical environment. Over the years, the program has attracted over 1,500 participants from 36 countries, including both Armenians and non-Armenians interested in Armenian studies.

The association's efforts have been recognized by the Ministry of Diaspora of the Republic of Armenia, awarding it the title of "Best Cultural Centre in Diaspora" in 2018.
